»The Barfly by Buddha Bar at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in Abu Dhabi is the little sister of the Buddha Bar in Monte Carlo and can look back on an infamous party tradition. And it already makes history at the Venetian Village location in Abu Dhabi: international stars and starlets are welcome guests here, as are tourists from all over the globe wishing to enjoy a night filled with very elegant cocktails, great food, and excellent music. The Barfly by Buddha Bar is about to become a new classic among Abu Dhabi's hot spots.

The operators appropriately chose a very special engineered wood flooring: the dark French Oak Smoked from the „New Classics Design Edition by Hadi Teherani“ is a class of its own. The elegant oak engineered wood flooring that is tinted in an elaborate smoking method reinterprets the popular herringbone installation. This created a floor that perfectly combines modernity and timelessness. In the spirit of the bar.«

»An industrial style with a loft character is increasingly popular on an international level. Inspired by the history of the buildings and the particular architecture, the interior architects revive the industrial look in the choice of materials. The special challenge: an authentic industrial look with a comfortable atmosphere. This was realised successfully in an exciting project in Malta. Here we equipped an apartment with our vinyl flooring Boxwood vintage brown. The key feature is that the flooring was not only used on the floor but also in the wall design. This gives the apartment a very special charm. The solid material vinyl flooring is also very robust and easy to maintain.«

The New York designer Karim Rashid designed the interior. His visionary, cheerful designs create a perfect symbiosis with the rather stark architecture of Sergei Tchoban.

Karim Rashid wants to break away from old lifestyle and visual habits. To realise this vision for the hotel rooms, he developed three laminate floors in cooperation with Parador in the colours of the respective building wings: pink in the East Tower, blue in the West Tower, and a discreet grey in the Upper Tower.«

»An industrial style with a loft character is increasingly popular on an international level. Inspired by the history of the buildings and the particular architecture, the interior architects revive the industrial look in the choice of materials. The special challenge: an authentic industrial look with a comfortable atmosphere. This was realised successfully in an exciting project in Malta. Here we equipped an apartment with our vinyl flooring Boxwood vintage brown. The key feature is that the flooring was not only used on the floor but also in the wall design. This gives the apartment a very special charm. The solid material vinyl flooring is also very robust and easy to maintain.«

» The historic Flechtheim-Speicher is located at the shore of the Dortmund-Ems Canal, with a direct view of the lively Münster port promenade with its numerous cafes and restaurants. With its eventful history, the protected historic monument will now be revived as an office and medical complex. Today it also houses the communications agency Kopfkunst, which improved its spacious offices with the engineered wood flooring Oak anthracite brushed from the Trendtime 4 product range.

The dark engineered wood flooring contrasts the tall, open ceiling with its striking concrete braces and clear lines. This contrast highlights the difference between historic and modern architecture and plays an important role in the new splendour of the Münster port's landmark.«

»Excellent Coesfeld craftsmanship in the Middle East. Cook Hall in Dubai impresses not only with great food and contemporary interior. The floor is a special eye-catcher. Rarely noticed, you will stumble across the large logo of the restaurant on the balcony of Cook Hall. The smoked oak flooring was custom-made by hand in Coesfeld exclusively for the customer. The logo was burnt into the wood across several planks and had to be installed with corresponding care.

The restaurant with its modern interior design and the excellent location is a popular destination in Dubai.«
